

By professionals, for professionals

The perfect combination of training and well-being.

Soccer Camps Lower Austria are actively supported by experienced, former professional players and coaches. The advantage for our guests: we know from first-hand experience the demand made by professional teams, and the best way to comply with them.

Toni Pfeffer

"During my time as a professional footballer, I often experienced for myself how difficult it is to find a training camp where everything really comes together - from its accessibility to the quality of the accommodation, the food, lovely pitches and favourable weather conditions. Lower Austria offers a perfect combination of all these factors. On top of all that, the region and the neighbouring countries have loads of interesting opponents for test matches."

Toni Pfeffer, retired professional player, winner of 4 Austrian league titles and cups: he played in 395 Austrian Bundesliga games for Austria Wien, earned 63 caps, played in the 1990 and 1998 World Cups, and is now head of the Lower Austrian Soccer Camps

Josef Hickersberger

"Here in Winklarn, we are now in our third consecutive year as a summer training camp. A big round of applause for the people involved in the camp, since we feel on top of the world every time we come here."

Frenk Schinkels

"As a professional coach, I am aware of how important good preparation is to stand you in good stead for a long, hard season. I can only recommend Lower Austria to my fellow coaches: great conditions, really nice people, and even fans of culture get what they come for."

Michael Hatz

"During my career, I got around a lot and am completely convinced that international football guests can really feel at home here, in Lower Austria. As a highlight of the away matches, we are looking forward to a top-quality international show of strength in the new NV Arena of the Sportwelt NÖ - one of the loveliest small stadiums in Austria."
